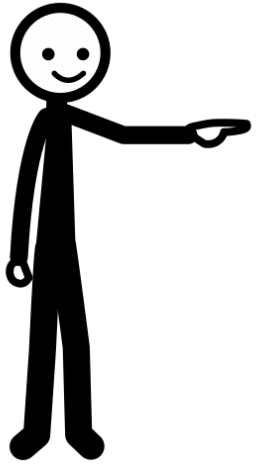
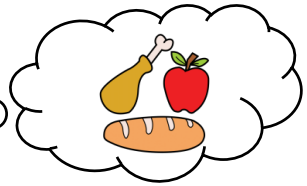
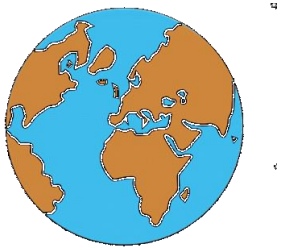
El ODS 2: hambre cero en el mundo.



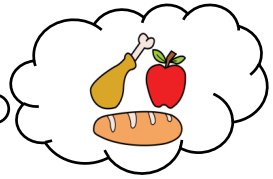
Estas son sus metas

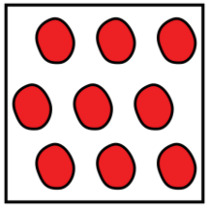


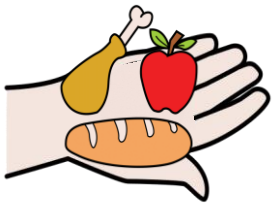
0



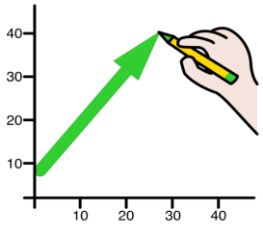
Hambre	0	en	el	mundo.

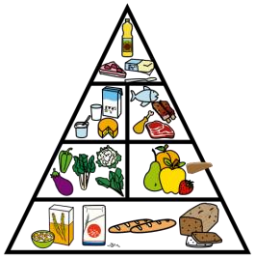


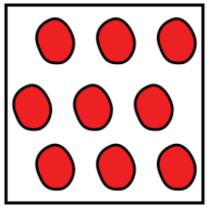




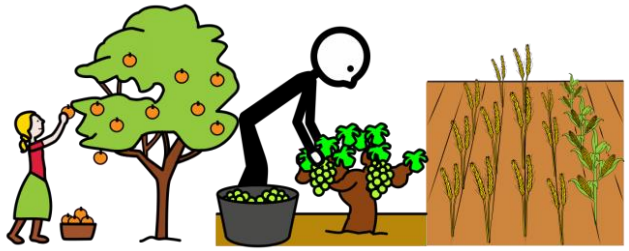
Poner	fin	al	hambre,	que	todo	el	mundo	tenga alimentos.





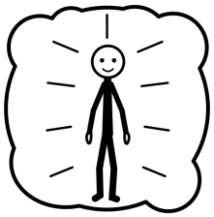


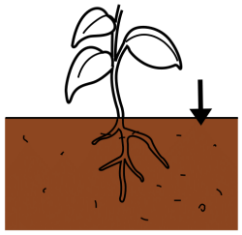
Mejorar la nutrición de todas las personas en el mundo.



Promover la agricultura sostenible, produciendo alimentos saludables.

No utilizar abonos que dañan el medio ambiente.





Si se respeta la tierra que se cultiva, el aire y el agua, mejora la calidad de vida del agricultor y se respetan sus derechos.

Mejora también la calidad de vida de todas las personas.

1 de cada 9 personas en el mundo NO está bien alimentada.

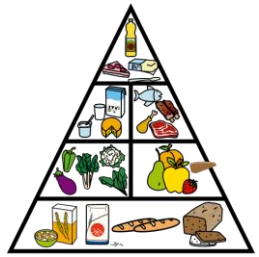
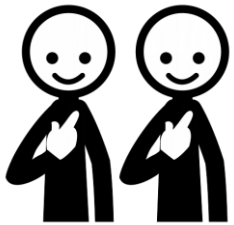
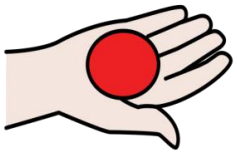
3.000.000

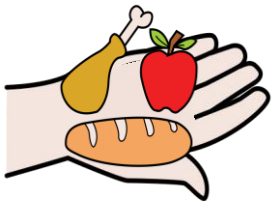


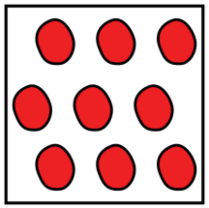
Los niños pasan hambre, mueren 3 millones al año por mala nutrición.



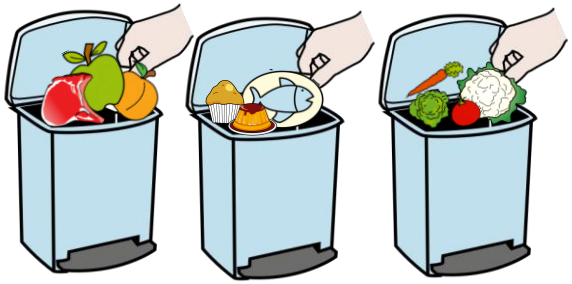


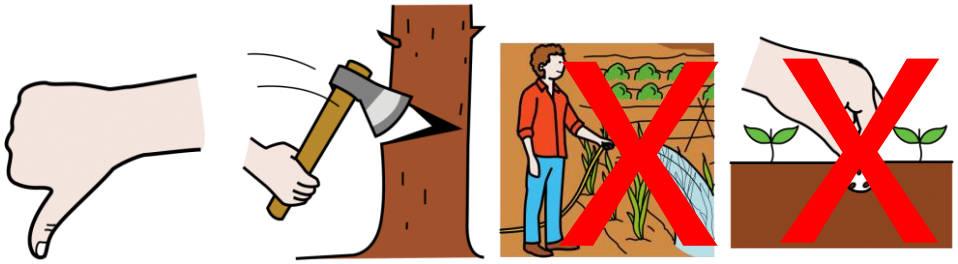
Nuestro	planeta	tiene	recursos	suficientes





para	poder	alimentar	a	toda	su	población.





El desperdicio de alimentos, las malas prácticas agrarias, la degradación del suelo, el agua y el medio ambiente sucio y contaminado, el cambio climático, los terremotos, las inundaciones, los volcanes, los incendios, los huracanes, las guerras, los maremotos, son los culpables de que haya hambre y pobreza en el mundo.

La agenda 2.030 para acabar con el hambre mira hacia las personas más frágiles: mujeres, niños y personas mayores.

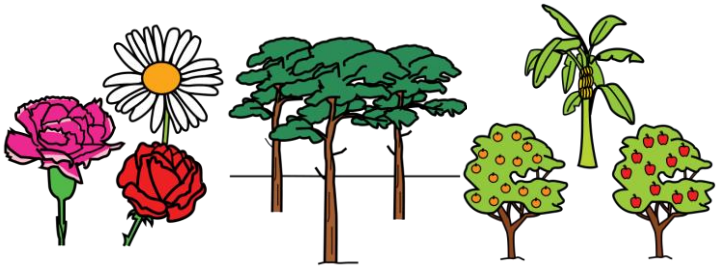
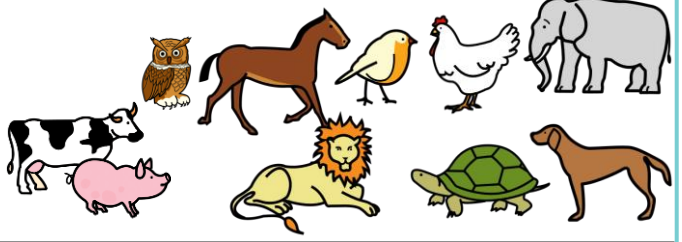
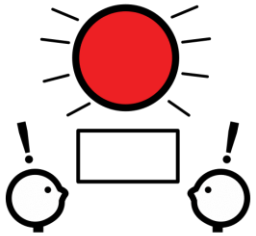
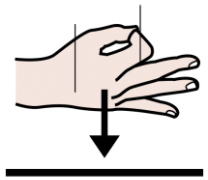
La agenda 2.030 propone una agricultura sostenible.

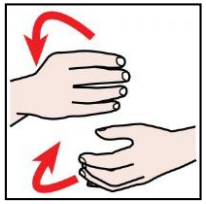




Mantener la diversidad de plantas y la diversidad de animales.

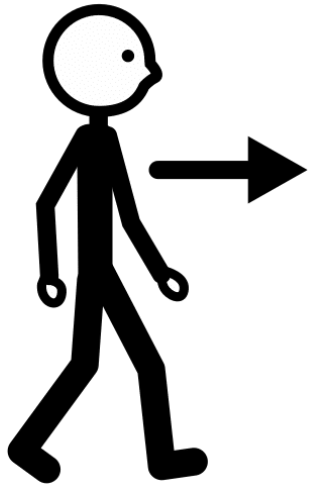






La agenda 2.030 habla de lo importante que es hacer las cosas bien.

¡Tengamos voluntad para cooperar!



¿Nos	ponemos	a	ello?
